Responsible use of e-Resources

The Library's electronic resources are subject to license agreements signed between ESADE and the individual data providers. These agreements are contracts, clearly stipulating who can access the resources and how they can be used.

Who can access these e-Resources?

- Currently enrolled students in ESADE programmes
- Currently employed ESADE faculty, academic assistants and researchers
- Authorised visiting professors and researchers
- Currently employed ESADE personnel and administrative staff (PAS)
- ESADE Alumni members: can access a limited number of e-Resources. For additional information, please consult the list of Alumni Services

Conditions of use

- As a general norm, license agreements allow authorised users to access electronic resources for individual use though solely for academic, study or research ends.
- E-Resources cannot be used for any commercial or for-profit ends.
- E-Resource contents cannot be systematically downloaded unless the individual resources include an individual download feature.
- Authorised users are assigned a unique user ID and password to access the e-Resources. These IDs and passwords are individual, personal and non-transferable.
- If faculty members want to upload any e-Resource content to the Moodle platform for their use in class, they must first contact the Library to ensure that they have the necessary permissions to use said content.
- Authorised users are responsible for complying with the terms and conditions of use of these e-Resources. Non-fulfilment of these conditions will result in the cancellation of their authorisation to use said resources for a period of time to be determined. Non-fulfilment of license agreements by any user may also result in the service's cancellation for the entire ESADE community.

- The specific terms and conditions of use for each e-Resource are normally detailed on the corresponding suppliers' webpages. Please contact the Library for additional information.
