Degree objective

The global learning objective of the Bachelor in Business Administration (BBA) programme is as follows:

Global learning objective

By the end of this programme, graduates have to demonstrate an integral and international perspective of organisations. They will also be skilled in applying the knowledge and specific tools for each functional business area in pursuit of fulfilling the business strategy, all the while upholding sustainability and corporate social responsibility values.

The following, specific learning objectives stem from this global objective:

Specific objectives

- a. Develop a basic business language, implying an in-depth knowledge of the key management concepts and tools associated to the different functional areas.

- b. Develop the skills they need to be able to adopt an integral and general view of their organisations and the settings in which they operate well beyond the functional areas.

- c. Demonstrate rigor, a critical spirit and creativity when applying the knowledge and skills acquired from their professional activity in the different business areas.
- d. Be capable of contributing to their companies' global strategy from their respective functional areas, all with an international view of the organisation.
- e. Become enterprising and thoughtful professionals and executives, sensitive to diversity and aware of their personal and professional responsibility to society; they are people who cultivate human quality and a sense of solidarity and justice.

Transfer and recognition of credits: system proposed by the university in accordance with Article 13 of Royal Decree 1393/2007.

General regulations

The provisions of Royal Decree 1125/2003, of 5th September, which establishes the European credit system and the assessment system for official university degrees that are valid throughout Spain.

The provisions of Royal Decree 285/2004, of 20th February, Royal Decree 309/2005, of 18th March, and the Agreement of the University Coordination Council of the Spanish Ministry of Education and Science, of 25th October 2004, which establish the generally applicable criteria for degree recognition and adaptation.

The provisions of Royal Decree 1393/2007, of 29th October, which establishes the organisation of official university degrees.

As established by the general regulations, if a student's degree belongs to the branch of social and legal sciences, credits corresponding to the basic education subjects of that branch shall be recognised.

If the degree belongs to a different branch, credits corresponding to basic education subjects belonging to the branch of social and legal sciences shall be recognised.

All other credits shall be recognised on the basis of matching the competencies and knowledge acquired by the student to the competencies and knowledge established in the present curriculum.

This process is carried out as follows:

Process

- a. Once enrolled at ESADE, the student requests recognition of the credits for subjects he/she has taken and passed at other universities that offer official degrees.
- b. The student submits an application at the Registrar's Office, along with the following documents:
 - Academic transcript of previous studies showing the subjects in question.
 - Syllabi of the subjects for which the student is requesting recognition of credits.
- c. The documentation is verified by the Academic Management of the programme. If everything is in order, the documentation is sent to the faculty member responsible for the subject.
