Short Bio:

Khaled Hassan is a Ph.D. candidate in Operations Management at Esade Business School. He holds a Master of Research in Management Sciences from Esade Business School and a Bachelor's degree in Business Management from the Lebanese American University. Before pursuing an academic career, he was managing his own restaurant in Dubai.

His research interest is in the human factor of Lean Manufacturing. More specifically, his research lies at the intersection of the fields of leadership and lean manufacturing. It aims at understanding the role of leadership in the effective implementation of lean practices by uncovering different underlying mechanisms. His work has led to the presentation of multiple papers at international conferences.
