Short Bio:

Yuchen Hu is a PhD student in Entrepreneurship at Esade Business School. She holds a Master of Research (MRes) in Management Sciences from Esade, a Bachelor of Management in Accounting from Fuzhou University, and ACCA affiliate status (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants).

Her research focuses on entrepreneurial loneliness and solitude. She studies how founders make sense of being alone while leading and building ventures, the situations that intensify feelings of loneliness, and the conditions under which solitude becomes constructive rather than isolating. Using both quantitative and qualitative methods, her work contributes to a deeper understanding of the emotional experience of entrepreneurship and informs more nuanced support for founders.
