Short Bio:

Yuhan Ji is a Ph.D. candidate in Accounting at Esade Business School. She holds an MRes from Esade, an M.Sc. in Accountancy and Control from the University of Amsterdam, and a B.Sc. in Business Administration (Accounting Track) from the Macau University of Science and Technology.

Her research interests focus on how management learns from capital market participants, particularly financial analysts, to update and develop their workforce. More specifically, her research examines the effects of ESG regulations from both environmental and economic perspectives.
