

Linda Castellazzi

Impact Entrepreneurship Manager

Education

- Master of Not-For-Profit and Social Enterprise Management, University of Technology Sydney
- Master of Human Resources Management, University of Technology Sydney
- Master of Company Economics and Law, University of Pavia
- Bachelor of Economics (Management and Control), University of Pavia

Areas of interest

Social entrepreneurship, impact measurement, design thinking, homelessness, disability, refugism, access to work, animal welfare.

Biography

Linda Castellazzi oversees the developing of an accelerator program for start-ups that operate in the field of sustainability.

Linda has international experience as project manager and social entrepreneur. Among her achievements is the opening of the first Australian hotel run by people with intellectual disabilities and the creation of a start-up that takes care of homeless people's pets.

Linda also worked as social impact measurement specialist, helping to build a free and accessible tool to measure social impact. In the education field, Linda worked as tutor teaching design thinking methodologies.